This study was conducted to determine the effects of daily allowance to the students' academic performance in order to come up with recommendations. The data came from grade 10 students.

Descriptive method of research was used to analyze the effects of daily allowance to the students' academic performance. It was also utilized to identify what program can be made by the school. The major tool used in data gathering was a researchers-made questionnaire which was divided into parts.

The statistical treatments used after data had been gathered are frequency, percentage and rank distribution, Pearson moment of correlation and weighted mean.

From the results of the study, the students' general weighted average are between 86-90 who can maintain the excellence performance at school. The students' daily allowance is between 41-50 pesos which enough to maintain their academic performance. The statement I can provide all the needed materials in all subjects. Thus, we found that it has significant relationship between student-respondents' daily allowance and academic performance. The higher the daily allowance, the higher the academic performance.

There are many reasons to give your kids an allowance, but these are the ones that we feel are most beneficial in the long run. An allowance should never be something that is given just because an allowance should be earned to your child in an effort to teach them responsibility and the value of money (Carm Anne Benavil, 2016).

However, despite the benefits gained by the students of having allowance, there are many problems and advantages present. But it depends on the students how they will use their allowance. We all know that we should know how to budget our daily allowance or better yet we should be thrifty enough so that in a way we will be able to help ourselves.

The main objective of this research was to describe the effects of daily allowance on the students' academic performances of the grade 10 students in CPANHS, Balesar, the school year 2011-2018.
