Bullying is a social issue phenomenon that occurs globally more than forty years ago and unfortunately, it is repeatedly done by an aggressive behavior of a bully, particularly in schools. School bullying cases are still increasing due to the unwanted behavioral act of a bully.

This case study was conducted to describe and know the experiences of a self-confessed bully.

The data were gathered from unstructured interview by selected participant who is studying in Gen. E. Aguinaldo National High School. The researchers used Litchman's 3Cs of Analysis to interpret and analyzed the data.

The three themes emerged from the experienced are: Happiness in Someone's Pain, The Darkness: Experiences of a Self- Confessed Bully and Enlighten of the Bulb. To give description of this case, we generated three descriptions: Student's Unacceptable Reason, Student's Behavior and Student's Realization.
