Education is the most important thing we need to have today because it is the only thing that no one can get us. Unfortunately, there are some people that are financially challenged and there is no opportunity to study. Despite this kind of situation some of those people making a way in order to become educated even if they are facing a lot of difficulties.

This case study was conducted to describe the experiences of a student working as a house helper.

The main sources of data were from the unstructured interview with the selected participant in Gen. E. Aguinaldo National High School – Bailen. Litchman's 3cs of qualitative data analysis was done to analyze and interpret the data for the study.

The three themes emerged from the experiences are: The Kind if Soil and the Roots, The weeds, and The Green Thumb. The researchers described the experiences of participant as follows: A Student's Life before Being a Student Kasambahay, The Student's Time of challenges and The Student's Continual Fighting.
