Money is one of the most important things to survive in the day to day life. Money is like food, you can't even survive in a few days without it. In the Philippines more than one fifth of its population or some 22million Filipinos still live below the national poverty line (World Bank, 2015). Because of low salary here in the Philippines, many Filipinos prefer to work far away from their family.

This case study was concocted to describe the experience of student studying far away from her mother.

The main sources of data were from the unstructured interview with the selected participant in Gen. E. Aguinaldo National High School Cavite (Bailen). Litchman's 3cs of qualitative data analysis was done to analyze and interpret the data for the study.

The three themes emerged from the experiences are: The Mountain She need clime, The strategies for success to Every Mountains, and never give up on your-self.
